

a) Tentative Course of Actions.

At this stage a sketch and a short narrative explanation describe tentative COAs. Every attempt should be made to consider as many COAs as possible. This provides more flexibility in how forces are employed and how the mission may be accomplished.